

Please do not undertake this action that would water down the current legislation in place that keeps my phone from ringing needlessly. I do not like having my evenings ruined by solicitors calling me to sell services I do not want. I would contact the banks in question if I am interested in their services.

Thank You